

Goat Reproduction Management and Artificial Insemination Clinic

August 12, 2017

DeKalb County Fairgrounds Exhibit Hall
708 S Union Street, Auburn, IN, 46706

This clinic is for goat producers of all backgrounds (meat, dairy, or fiber; beginner or advanced). The clinic is divided into two portions, “classroom” and hands on training. The “classroom” portion will be held inside taught with slideshow and training manual. The hands on training portion will be held outside or in a covered area. We will be working with participants on the time of each portion to best fit everyone’s schedule around their shows. Each portion will be approximately 4 hours, but we will stay until all participants are comfortable with the material and techniques.

Synchronized practice does and lunch will be provided by B & D Genetics. Participants are expected to provide their own insemination kits, supplies, and stands for this portion of clinic. Artificial Insemination kits can be purchased from B & D Genetics prior to clinic.
